LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock School Board meets tonight amid growing expectations that five of the six members will resign as a result of the shimmering integration controversy.

A public meeting was announced by the board after a private session yesterday.

Five of the board members would say what would be done at tonight's meeting.

Only Dr. Dale Alford, who defeated Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) for his Fifth District congressional post in the Nov. 4 election, would reveal his intentions. Alford said he would remain on the board no matter what the other members did.

Wayne Upton, board president, affirmed reports that he and Dr. William C. Cooper, R.A. Little, Harold Engstrom and Frank Lambright had discussed the possibility of resigning. But he would not say whether a decision had been reached.

All board members except Engstrom and Cooper attended a closed meeting yesterday. They were reported unable to be present.

School Supt. Virgil Blossom and Claude Carpenter Jr., a close friend of Gov. Orval Faubus, also attended the session.

The presence of Carpenter, who managed Alford's successful write-in campaign against Hays, set off speculation that the board was seeking reconciliation with the governor.

But after the meeting Carpenter said he had attended only as legal counsel for Alford.

Auto Co. Closed by an Office Strike

DETROIT (AP)—All eight of the Chrysler Corp. auto and truck assembly plants were closed today by a strike of 8,000 office workers and engineers.

Chrysler plants working on missiles and other defense items were not affected.

The United Auto Workers Union, which represents both the strikers and Chrysler's approximately 70,000 production workers, had expressed hopes the strike would not force a shutdown of Chrysler's production of 1959 models.

UAW leaders instructed strikers not to post picket lines around the auto plants—unionists traditionally do not cross picket lines.

Chrysler said its work picture was changing almost hourly because of union walkouts and company shutdowns of some units because of parts shortages.

Livestock Show Profit $2,728 Report Shows

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Third District Livestock Show was held last week at the Diamond Cafe in Hope to hear the report of the operation for 1958 and elect new officers for the coming year. Board members were present from Columbia, Miller, Little River, Howard, Pike, Clark, Nevada and Hempstead Counties.

The report showed that the 1958 show made a profit of $2,728.32, with $225.00 in accounts receivable which, when collected, would bring the profit up to $2,953.32. The report for the full year's operation shows a bank balance of $1,264.23 after all bills were paid. The amount due on notes was reduced by $1,125.00 leaving a balance of $60,000. The Board voted to apply all of the money derived from advertising in the 1959 catalogue toward retirement of these notes.

A. P. Cox, a 1958 vice president and prominent dairy farmer from Miller County, was elected president for 1959, succeeding Frank Douglas of Hope. Mr. Douglas was elected first vice president, Judge U. G. Garrett of Hope, second vice president and Robert Child of Nashville third vice president. B. N. Holt was re-elected secretary-manager subject to the approval of the Hope Chamber of Commerce Board. A treasurer will be elected by the Executive Committee which is to meet soon.

Infant Burns to Death in Home

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two infant boys burned to death in a fire which destroyed a house west of Little Rock today. The mother of one was burned severely.

The dead children were David Soles, 10 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Soles, and Ronald Alfred, six months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Alfred. Both families lived in the house.

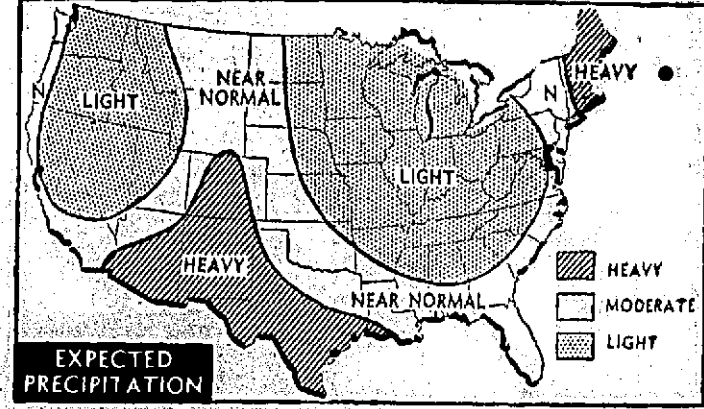

Mrs. Alfred was taken to a Little Rock hospital. Attendants said she suffered first and second degree burns and shock.

Mrs. Alfred said she did not know how the fire started but that the house suddenly was in flames.

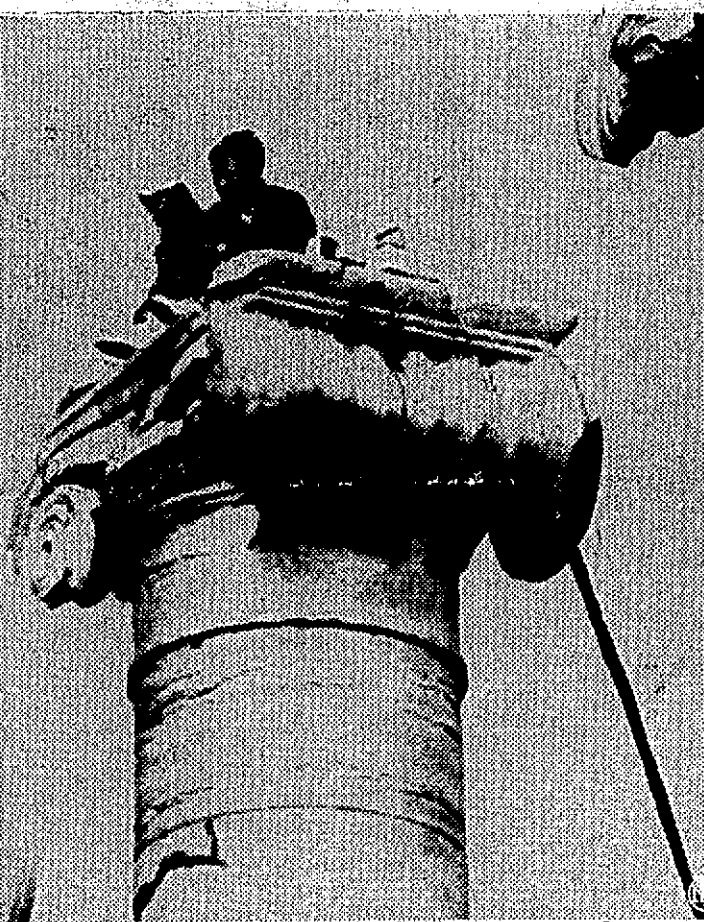

The Soles infant's body was recovered. The body of the other child was not found at once. A search was now being made. The house was situated on the old Hot Springs highway a few miles from Little Rock.

Folks in the East, South and southern Rocky Mountain areas will find the weather colder than usual in November. But above normal temperatures are forecast for the northern half of the country from the Great Lakes west to the Pacific Coast and in the far Southwest.

Rainfall in November is expected to exceed normal in New England and in the Southwest. Near normal amounts are forecast along the East and West Coasts. In the East Gulf region and in the northern Rocky Mountain states. Elsewhere, below normal precipitation is indicated.

Interrupted in his studying to say when he would come down, Rusby said: "When Missouri beats Oklahoma." University officials are in a quandary about getting him down because ladder used to put him atop the column has been broken. — NEA-Telephone

Christmas Parade Here December 4

The annual Christmas Parade will be held Thursday night, December 4, at 7:30. It was announced today with the theme being "Christmas in Story and Song." The parade is a joint project of the Jaycees and Retail Merchants of Hope.

Prizes for the five floats judged best will be $75, $50, $25, $12.50 and $12.50. Any organization interested in entering a float should contact the Chamber of Commerce.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has made arrangements to have Santa Claus visit Hope for the parade and to spend a full week before Christmas.

Chairmen of the parade committee include Eugene White, Fred Mathias and Raymond Hughes for the Jaycees; James Howell, Bill Caldwell, Emil Kaden for the Retail Merchants.

Feild Gives Interpretation of Election

State Representative Talbot Feild Jr., who recently won his sixth term to the Arkansas Legislature, gave interpretative information on the national election in a speech Tuesday before the Hope Kiwanis Club.

He pointed to significant trends in the labor and farm vote, and hailed the overall Democratic landslide as a great victory for the South, whose leaders already held chairmanships of powerful committees in the Congress.

He said the election, in his opinion, definitely eliminated Senator Knowland and former Governor Knight of California as possible GOP presidential candidates in 1960 — and predicted that Nelson Rockefeller, who took the nomination for governorship of New York, would be the rising star and possible Republican candidate for president.

Guests were Dale Dunn, Lawrence May and Paul Morris.

Benefit Saturday at Holly Grove

The WSCS of the Holly Grove Methodist Church is sponsoring a benefit supper Saturday, Nov. 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the church. Proceeds will go to start a church building fund. Everyone has a special invitation.

The Ivy Mitchell family quartet will feature special music.

Report Cards to Be Handed Out Thursday

Thursday, November 13, report cards will be distributed to students of Hope schools. In grades 1 through 12 the report cards have been changed this year.

Each student will receive a card from each class in which they are enrolled and will have the sole responsibility in getting this report home to their parents.

School officials would like to encourage all parents to check with their children Thursday afternoon and go over their report cards with them.

Final Rites Today for Sgt. Owen

Funeral services for Sgt. Terry Owen, 27, killed in an auto accident Monday night near Jonesboro, will be held at 2:30 p.m. today at the First Methodist Church by the Rev. Rufus Sorrells. Burial by Herndon-Gonzales will be in Ozark Cemetery at Hedgesville.

Lewis Stalls Talks for Coal Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—John L. Lewis has stalled negotiations for a new soft coal wage agreement, by demanding the industry refuse to handle nonunion mined coal, which represents about a fifth of the nation's total. It was reported today.

Lewis informally set Jan. 1 as a deadline for the soft coal contract, the New York Times said. This is the same date he gave hard coal operators for the end of their contract.

A shutdown of most soft and hard coal mines New Year's Day was unlikely, the Times added.

The talks have not yet got to wages.

On the nonunion coal issue, the soft coal operators reportedly told Lewis they saw no way of getting a ban into the contract without making themselves liable to prosecution under the federal antitrust laws.

65 Counties Using Food Commodities

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Only 65 Arkansas counties took part in state Welfare Department's surplus commodity distribution program in October. Commissioner Carl Adams announced today.

The record participation is 73 of Arkansas' 75 counties.

Adams attributed the drop to farm activity and harvest season employment.

He said that during October his department distributed about five million pounds of surplus foods valued at more than $1,300,000 for use by 445,062 persons—welfare recipients and others.

Most of the surplus federal foods, which include butter, cheese, milk, flour and rice, went to 228,350 welfare recipients. Commodities for school lunch programs were distributed to 901 schools with 206,569 pupils. These included canned beans, peas and other vegetables as well as frozen turkeys, milk, rice and flour.

About 146,553 pounds of butter, cheese, milk, rice and other foods were given to 55 institutions, serving 30,144 persons.

Stassen Starts 'Dump-Nixon' Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, who waged a "dump Nixon" campaign in 1950, seemed to be relaunching it today.

He held a political post mortem with President Eisenhower and then pointedly omitted Vice President Nixon from a list of Republican presidential possibilities for 1960.

Stassen gave no indication that Eisenhower in any way approved or disapproved this omission.

Now a Philadelphia lawyer, Stassen is a former presidential adviser. Before the 1950 GOP national convention he led an unsuccessful attempt to jettison Nixon as the vice presidential nominee.

"The campaign didn't get very far and in the end, Stassen himself made a speech for Nixon to the convention."

After his visit with Eisenhower today, Stassen told newsmen he believes the Republican Party can win in 1960 with any one of four men as the presidential candidate.

Stassen's list:

Nelson Rockefeller, who won a spectacular victory Nov. 3 in the New York governorship race; Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations; Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton.

Asked if he didn't have somebody else in mind, such as Nixon, Stassen replied:

"Well, I think this 1958 election speaks for itself in that regard."

To a question whether he is "still going to try to dump Nixon," Stassen replied that "I don't think it should be expressed in those terms."

Union Elects Hutcheson as Leader

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—President Maurice A. Hutcheson of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America was re-elected today without opposition at the union's national convention.

Hutcheson, of Indianapolis, became president in 1952, succeeding his father, Bill Hutcheson who died. He was re-elected in 1954.

Hutcheson is under indictment in Indiana for allegedly conspiring to bribe a state right of way official in that state's highway scandals.

At the start of the convention Monday, he denied the bribery charge. He told the 2,000 delegates he was innocent.

Hutcheson also denied charges by Senate Rackets Committee investigators that the union maintained a so-called mystery fund of large proportions. He has been cited for contempt of Congress by that committee.

In Washington, Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Rackets Committee, declined comment on Hutcheson's re-election.

Nov. 17-22 Is Farm-City Week in Hope

The week of November 17 to 22 has been designated Farm-City Week in Hope, an annual event which is sponsored by the Hope Kiwanis Club.

The week-long observance is aimed at bringing about better understanding between rural and urban dwellers, and will be climaxed on Tuesday night when 42 outstanding farmers of Hempstead County will be guests at a special program of the Kiwanis Club.

Jimmy Cook, chairman of the Agricultural committee of the Kiwanians, said the guests would include the champion Hempstead County Farm Family of 1958, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Burke of the DeAnn community, as well as the champion 4-H boy and champion 4-H girl of 1958.

Mr. Cook said Farm-City Week is an activity which has caught the imagination of farm, business, governmental and lay leaders alike. The necessity of closing the breach in the understanding between the rural and urban segments of the American economy is a very real one, he said, and will provide an opportunity for concentrated exchange of ideas and information between farm folks and city folks.

Mr. Cook also announced that various Hope merchants were planning special sales event days next week in which they will offer merchandise at special low prices.

Two Men Pull $8,000 Holdup at Texarkana

TEXARKANA (AP)—Two men robbed a woman bookkeeper of $8,000 today on a busy street intersection. A half hour later, men answering the same description held up a finance company and took $1,000.

The bookkeeper was robbed across the street from a police station. The finance company was across the street from a sheriff's office.

Mrs. Hazel Ewing, a bookkeeper for the Sinit Wholesale Grocery Co., had just taken the $8,000 from the State National Bank and was returning to the grocery when a man grabbed the bank bag and ran to a waiting auto driven by a companion.

Shortly thereafter, two men about 25 or 30 years old entered the Allied Finance Co., menacing the three persons inside with a .45-caliber automatic and fled with $1,000.

Both robberies occurred on the Texas side of the Arkansas-Texas city. The men were described as about 5-10 and weighed about 170 pounds. Both were grey suits. At the finance company they left the three witnesses tied, the grocery money holdup occurred at 9:30 a.m.

Harry Fisher, a pedestrian, witnessed the robbery, and took down the license number of the automobile. The car was a blue and white Mercury. It had been stolen just a few minutes before the robbery from a Texarkana resident.

Mrs. Ewing said the man slipped up behind her.

"The first thing I knew," she said, "he had snatched the money bag and had run a few yards to a parked car."

Russia Calls U. S. Moon Shots 'Nightmarish'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union charged today the United States has "nightmarish" plans to set up military bases on the moon to launch massive attacks on Soviet cities.

The Soviet charge came from Zorin, Foreign Minister Valentin A. Zorin as the U.N.'s Disarmament Committee opened debate on the problem of space control.

Zorin told the committee the Soviet Union could not agree to any international program for the peaceful uses of outer space unless the United States pledged itself to liquidate all its foreign military bases.

He repeated previous Soviet demands for a ban on the use of intercontinental ballistic missiles and other space weapons as another condition to any cooperation in space experiments such as the United States is urging.

"The key to the whole problem," he said, "is to adopt measures which will take into account the security of all sides on an equal basis."

Zorin quoted Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), Senate majority leader, as saying, "Control over cosmic space means control over the whole world." He noted that Johnson was expected here to take part in the U.N. debate on space control.

"I believe the Soviet Union understands full well that our bases exist only for defense," Lodge declared.

Un to Discuss Quest of Skies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations blasts off into outer space today with a debate on control of man's quest for the skies. Some East-West blasts loomed ahead.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valentin Zorin was expected to open debate before the U.N. political committee with a call to link the space question with Russia's cold war demand for elimination of military bases on foreign soil.

The United States, which indicated it will not go into extensive debate until it hears Russia's full position, privately sought support for its own proposal. It wants to create a U.N. commission to study how outer space can be used solely for peace.

The United States made clear it would oppose Russia's demand to approve both a ban on use of space for military purposes and elimination of foreign military bases on foreign soil, particularly Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

SAVANNA, Ga. (AP)—A giant plane, unofficially identified as a KC87 Stratolifter, crashed with earth-shaking explosions in a marsh near the Isle of Hope today.

Such a plane, if used for troop transport, could carry around 60 passengers. If used for its more specific purpose of refueling other planes in flight, it would have a much smaller number of men aboard.

ground that it is a Communist puppet without popular basis. It was to early to tell whether this offensive would be accompanied by a native war against isolated Berlin.

"I am of the opinion that negotiations will take place shortly between the government of the German Democratic Republic and the Soviet government over the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Germany," Grotewohl said. "By this means we will encourage the Western powers to follow suit. I believe we will find enough people in both parts of Germany who will fight for that. Thereby we will come one step closer to a peace treaty."

Fire Guts Home, Aged Negro Dies

PORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—A blind, 80-year-old Negro man died in a fire that razed a small frame house here today.

Dead is John Hawkins, who was alone in the house when the fire broke out. He lived with a daughter of Germany and about 300,000 U. S. British and French soldiers in Western Germany.

Grotewohl did not elaborate under what conditions the Soviet Union might agree with Communist East Germany to pull out its troops.

In the past the Russians have made Allied withdrawal from West Germany the condition for the pull-out of their own troops.

The Western powers have refused to pull out their forces unless an agreement could be reached on the reunification of Germany through free elections

ALC Hits Snag on Budget for Parks

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council ran into a snag today over whether the Publicity & Parks Commission should reveal in its budget how each state park during the next two years.

The question stemmed from the commission's earmarking $100,000 for Whitehairs Park near Mena and $22,500 for the proposed Hampden Memorial Park at Wilson, and not specifying any particular amount for other state parks.

Several members objected to a suggestion that funds be "line itemed" for all parks. They said such an action would put requesting officials "on the spot" and cause dissension among Legislative Council members.

However, state Sen. Roy Riales of Mena objected to deleting the line item for Whitehairs Park, saying he feared the project otherwise would not get the amount requested. The 1937 Legislature made separate appropriations for Whitehairs and Hampden Parks.

Earlier the Parks Commission had instructed Director Ted Woods to furnish the Legislative Council more complete budget information without specifying exact expenditures for the various parks.

The Council then went into closed session to discuss the budget further.

Budget requests for Southern State College and Arkansas State College also were presented to the Council today.

President Dolph Camp of Southern State asked for a regular budget of $555,000 a year, the same as the current one, but a supplementary request asked for nearly $923,000 annually.

The Council was told that Arkansas State expects an enrollment of more than 3,500 students by 1941. Current enrollment is about 2,750. The college asked for a hefty increase in appropriations.

Ark-La Buys Out Another Big Plant

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. today announced the purchase of Reynolds Gas Regulator Co. of Anderson, Ind., for one million dollars.

The announcement by the utility's board of directors said the acquisition would lead to the establishment of a factory employing 100 persons in Arkansas within a year.

The Reynolds company was described as a leading producer of gas regulators and control devices for utility and liquefied petroleum gas industries.

Every gas customer has at least one such device on his premises, Ark-La said. Every gas-burning appliance has a regulator and all gas distribution systems require the devices for control of pressures.

W. R. Stephens, Ark-La board chairman and president, said the Anderson factory would continue its operations and would be supplemented by the new Arkansas plant.

Stephens said surveys for the new factory site already were well advanced but that the only thing certain about its location was that "it will be on the system." Ark-La serves 36 counties in Arkansas.

The Anderson factory employs 90 persons. Ark-La took possession of the new property Monday without a break in operations.

Stephens said that Floyd Gaunt of Anderson, a vice president of the Reynolds Company, would act as general manager of the manufacturing outlet.

Acquisition of the new subsidiary was described as another step in a diversification program upon which Ark-La embarked 14 months ago.

College Tells ALC 3,500 to Enroll by '61

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas State College expects an enrollment of more than 3,500 students by 1961, the state Legislative Council was told at its budget hearing today. Current enrollment is about 2,750.

The Council was considering request for a heavy increase in appropriations for the college.

Arkansas State's regular budget called for a total appropriation of $750,000, the same as the current figure. But a supplemental request boosted the salary appropriation alone to $2,435,000.

This latter figure includes salaries now paid from the school's cash fund—income derived from tuition, athletic receipts and other sources.

Some Council members were astonished at the supplemental request, despite an explanation that the school did not really expect to obtain the additional funds.

Dr. Carl Reng, president of Arkansas State, told the Council the school now has about 2,000 full time students and 750 part time students—about 1,600 more than any other state college.

Reng said teacher turnover is about 20 per cent annually. The fall reunion at the Albert Pike Memorial Temple were Harry Shiver, George Lambert, Dewey Barber and Ted Maryman.

Mrs. B. C. Hyatt attended the AEA meeting in Little Rock Thursday and Friday and while there she also visited her brother Stuart Spragins and her son, Dr. Benjamin Hyatt. They were joined by another son, Rev. Bob Hyatt of Augusta, Ark. on Saturday. Besides attending the football games on Friday and Saturday in Conway and Little Rock, Mrs. Hyatt also enjoyed the presentation of "South Pacific" in Todd-A-O and attended "Auntie Mame" at Robertson Auditorium on Saturday night.

Eldridge Formby and Raymond Johnson are local candidates for degrees in the fall class of Scottish Rite Masons being conducted in Little Rock this weekend. Among the 2,000 Arkansas Masons to register Monday for the annual

DOROTHY DIX

Stepmother Finds She's Stepped On

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My sister's husband died, leaving her a good home and nice income. She remarried, her second husband being a widower with no money, but lots of children. My sister took them all into her home and gave them every advantage. What's her reward? She's treated more like a housekeeper than a wife and mother — Beulah.

Dear Beulah: Your sister should have been more careful in her marriage; she should have won the children's respect and affection. If not their love. The father of the brood certainly should not tolerate disrespectful treatment of his wife and should show appreciation for what she is doing for the family. He should set the example for the youngsters to follow. Apparently he has what he wanted — a safe home and good care for his family at no cost to himself.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Is it unkind to say for a woman to whistle? I am 70 plus and like to whistle when I feel like it. My brother-in-law scowls at me in disgust and tells me whistling is for men only. What do you think? — M. J. D.

Dear M. J. D.: Whistling is for anyone who is cheerful and can do it. Many things were once considered unkindly. In fact, the very word itself is obsolete so whistle to your heart's content — and I wish I could hear you.

budget request asked for higher salaries for most faculty members.

The school president requested that his own pay be increased from $10,000 to $15,000 a year and that 24 other teachers be raised to $10,000 or more.

For the Beebe branch of the college, the budget request was set at $65,000 a year—about $10,000 less than was asked two years ago.

Three other colleges yesterday presented budgets seeking about twice as much money as they get now.

Hays (D-Ark), a racial moderate in the general election, told newsmen before the session began that he would not resign.

The other five members of the board have discussed a possible mass resignation to escape from their integration "hot seat."

Alford also declared he was opposed to any plan of buying up the remaining 19 months of School Supt. Virgil Blossom's contract.

Both the school board and Blossom have been under heavy fire from segregationists since the eruption of the integration dispute here. Blossom is considered the architect of the city's gradual integration plan, and most of the board members have backed him to the hilt since the racial controversy began last fall.

"I am not concerned with whether the other members of the board are resigning or not resigning," Alford said. "I am not resigning but intend to serve out my term."

He added: "However, I am strongly opposed to buying up the contract of Virgil Blossom and will oppose any resolution to that effect."

There had been reports that the board might discuss such a contract purchase. Blossom's salary is $1,100 a month.

If the majority of the board members resigned, what would happen to the community's schools? Who would operate them? And how could yesterday's integra-

Russellville Man Dies Duck Hunting

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Keith B. Cogswell Sr., a prominent Russellville businessman, died of a heart attack today while on a duck hunting trip at Nimrod Lake near Plainview. He was 58.

Cogswell was owner and manager of the Ford Motor Co. here.

His death was reported by a son, Keith B. Cogswell Jr., who is in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Dallas.

He had been associated with the Ford company for more than 30 years and formerly was in the firm's sales division at Oklahoma City and Memphis.

He was president of the Ford County unit of the Dardanelle Dam Assn.

Selections for Football Games This Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Armistice Day? The firing at this veteran football game apparently will never cease just because Pittsburgh last Saturday spoiled his blueplate specialty by winning in the final 11 seconds.

It was one of 12 ineffectual weeks among the 49 decisions.

Naming the coming weekend's winners while digging the hole a full foot deeper:

LSU over Mississippi State: How you gonna beat a team that has a cannon for its major weapon? That's Billy Cannon, of course.

Corn over Ohio State: The Buckeyes are enraged the Hawkeyes are engaged to play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1. The bowans to stop celebrating just long enough to win in a squeaker.

Army over Villanova: Even if the Cadet varsity is back in good health the subs will get a good workout here.

Auburn over Georgia: The Plainsmen finally have an offense to go with their vaunted defense.

Wisconsin over Illinois: The Badgers walloped Purdue 31-6 and Purdue in turn walloped Illinois 31-8.

Oklahoma over Missouri: The Sooners make certain of another trip to Miami's Orange Bowl. Too many sophomores in the Missouri backfield.

Mississippi over Tennessee: The Volunteers have no answer for Bobby Franklin's passing.

Northwestern over Purdue: Burton, Thornton & Co. put on a show for the home folks.

Texas Christian over Texas: The Frogs have given up only 40 points in seven games and have lost only to Iowa en route to Cotton Bowl consideration.

Air Force over Wyoming: That Falcon luck carries on.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: The Tarheels' six-game winning streak is broken by George Igo's passes.

Syracuse over Colgate: The Orange will pile up a score in hopes of rating a bowl bid.

Pittsburgh over Nebraska: Those Cornhuskers get shocked again.

Washington over California: The Bears' Rose Bowl ambitions suffer a slight demerol.

Once over lightly.

FRIDAY

Maryland over Miami (N)

SATURDAY

EAST: Boston College over Dartmouth; Cornell over Dartmouth; Delaware over Bucknell.

Amherst over Williams; Harvard over Brown; Penn State over Holy Cross; Penn over Columbia; Princeton over Yale; Rutgers over Quinlan.

SOUTH: Virginia Military over The Citadel; Davidson over Richmond; Florida over Arkansas State; Navy over George Washington; Georgia Tech over Alabama; Kentucky over Xavier; Mississippi Southern over Virginia Tech; Clemson over North Carolina State; South Carolina over Virginia; Tulane over Vanderbilt; Duke over Wake Forest; West Virginia over William & Mary.

MIDWEST: Wichita over Drake; Iowa State over Kansas State; Cincinnati over Marquette; Michigan over Indiana; Michigan State over Minnesota; Oklahoma State over Kansas; Tulsa over Texas Tech.

SOUTHWEST: Southern Methodist over Arkansas; Houston over North Texas State; Rice over Texas A & M; Texas Western over Arizona.

FAR WEST: Brigham Young over Denver; Idaho over Utah State; Montana State over Montana; Washington State over Gonzaga; Oregon State over Stanford; Oregon over UCLA; Colorado over Utah.

COACH MAY QUIT TO ENTER BUSINESS

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Sports Editor John Mooney of the Salt Lake Tribune said today University of Idaho football Coach Skip Stahley is rumored to be thinking about quitting to enter private business.

But at Moscow, Idaho, Stahley said: "I have no plans at present to give up college coaching. It's my life."

Coaches Praise Fans for Support at Conway

The Hope Bobcats, preparing for their Homecoming Friday night against Arkadelphia, deserve a lot of credit for their victory over a fired-up Conway team last week.

Captain John Pierce and his crew hadn't scouted the Conway team but had heard you had to stop them around end or get beat. So he geared his defense to halt those swift backs breaking outside.

Conway soon discovered they couldn't move that way, hence they started gaining yardage through the middle which was weakened. Thus Conway gained right partly upfield but couldn't go as they moved near the goal line where the Bobcats were able to put more men in the middle.

Coaches Pierce, Sevier and Beasley outlined their defense at the Booster Club meet prior to the game and it was interesting to watch it work perfectly against Conway, even though the Wampus Cats played their best game of the season according to some reports.

In regard to the Homecoming game Friday the Coaches had this to say:

"The boys played good football again last Friday night against a determined team at Conway. We believe the crowd that followed us up there helped more than anything else. The boys had the determination to stay in there and fight but the crowd surely gave them encouragement when the chips were down."

"We have Arkadelphia here Friday night in our homecoming game and they have the boys capable of beating us. Their line will be larger than any we've played against this year and they are sure to be ready to try and down us."

"We coaches hope the town will get behind the boys again and help us win the next three. The Bobcats know they are good and this is the attitude that can get them beat."

"They have gotten to the point where they won't listen to the coaches. In other words, they've got to where they know more than the coaches that are trying to help them."

"With this attitude it wouldn't be hard to knock them off and Friday night could be it."

Funeral Director Robbed of $1,000

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — Three armed men forced their way into the home of a funeral director last night and robbed him of $1,000 in cash, several watches, two pistols and his automobile.

A. O. Fitzhugh, a Negro, told police two white men and a Negro appeared at his door just before midnight and asked to use the telephone to report a wreck. After he admitted them they forced him to open his safe.

Before leaving the trio lashed him and his wife to chairs, Fitzhugh said.

The stolen automobile was found abandoned today north of here.

El Dorado, with a population of 23,047 in 1950, is the largest city in the oil production area. The words "el dorado" in Spanish mean "the golden". This city is well named, because when oil was discovered in Arkansas, it did, so to speak, become a city of "black gold."

When To Fish as Always SOLUNAR TABLES

By John Allen Smith

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Allen Smith's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks, who worked up a pass defense that played a major role in the success of their last two games, hope to polish it up a bit for use against Southern Methodist here Saturday.

With a top passer like Don Meredith in face, the Porks figure they'll need a little something extra.

"Meredith is our main problem right now," Coach Frank Broyles said yesterday.

The Porks spent most of the day's session on pass defense, with special emphasis on the assignments of linemen.

Broyles said his team has some adjustments to make in defense against SMU despite two straight victories over pass-minded teams like Texas A&M and Hardin-Simmons.

Two players missed yesterday's session. End Richard Bell of Little Rock, team co-captain, spent the day in the university infirmary suffering from influenza. Fullback Johnny Fields of Atkins still was hobbled by a twisted knee that has bothered him since the Texas A&M game two weeks ago.

Emmet Senior girls copped a 40-31 victory with Juanita Douglas getting 16. Linda Galloway was high for Spring Hill with 12.

Coach Billy Mitchell's high flying Senior boys to a 70-28 win over Emmet's hapless hoopers, as Torrell Townsend grabbed 21. Gilbert Douglas led Emmet with 9 tallies. Officials were Robert Mize and James Blackwood. Timekeeper was Scott Key and scorekeepers Shirley Wright and William Hamilton.

Friday night, Emmet journeys to Guernsey for three games and Spring Hill goes to Bradley.

Two More Colt Gridders Crippled

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two more Baltimore Colts turned up with broken bones Tuesday, but they presumably will be ready for the game against the Bears in Chicago Sunday.

Linebacker Bill Polington fractured a thumb. Guard Steve Myhra broke a small bone in his wrist. They were injured in the Colts' loss to the New York Giants last Sunday.

Quarterback Johnny Unitas suffered fractured ribs some 10 days ago. L. G. Dwyer sustained a shoulder separation.

Davis Cup Team Is Australia Bound

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Australia-bound are three members of the U. S. Davis Cup tennis team and Capt. Perry T. Jones.

Departing with Jones Tuesday from International Airport were tennis stars Barry McKay, Dayton, Ohio; Chris Crawford, Piedmont, Calif.; and Earl Bucholz, St. Louis, Mo. They will join teammates Ham Richardson of New Orleans and Alex Olmedo of Los Angeles in Sydney Friday.

They meet the Italy-Philippine zone winner in Perth Dec. 19-21. If successful, they'll tackle the Aussies in the challenge round in Brisbane, Dec. 29-31.

The decision to seek readmittance came at a special meeting called after college officials met with a conference committee last week to discuss the move.

Southern State and Arkansas Tech were banned from conference athletic participation in 1955 by four other conference members on charges of illegal recruiting. Tech remained in the league by payment of its dues but Southern allowed its membership to lapse.

Last year Tech was allowed to resume conference basketball and this season, conference football.

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — The Southern State College Board of Trustees voted last night to seek immediate re-entrance of the school into the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

Southern State's application is expected to be considered at a conference meeting at Little Rock Dec. 13.

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — A Negro singer and recording artist was injured and a companion was killed last night when their car and a feed truck collided on U.S. Highway 41 a mile north of Marion.

Sam Cook, 27, was injured in the crash which killed Arthur Kinningsham, 42, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Also injured were two other passengers in the car, Louis Ralls and Cliff White, 38, both of Los Angeles.

Sheriff Cecil Goodwin said the four Negroes were en route from St. Louis to Greenville, Miss., to play an engagement.

Ralls was taken to a Memphis hospital and was in serious condition today. Cooke and White were less seriously injured.

One of Cooke's most popular records was "You Send Me." He makes his headquarters at Los Angeles.

Pulaski Election Commission Meets

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Pulaski County Election Commission will meet here tomorrow afternoon for a recount of the vote in the mayoral race at nearby Jacksonville at the Nov. 4 general election.

The recount was asked by Alderman John H. Harden, who lost by a small margin to incumbent Edward D. Schmitt.

Recounts showed 203 votes for Schmitt and 478 for Harden. Three other candidates ran. The recount will be held at 2 p.m. in the county clerk's office. Each candidate will be allowed to have a watcher present.

Awards Given Out to Seven Newspapers

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—Fifteen newspapers and six radio stations today were awarded citations for outstanding news and newsphoto coverage by The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn.

The awards were made at the opening session of the APME's 50th anniversary national convention. The citations concerned almost every snash news and picture story in the domestic service for 1958.

Citation after citation have gone up not only the speed and excellence of large and small newspaper and radio coverage, but related how they went far beyond their normal duties of cooperative exchange of headline copy to give The Associated Press wide, positive margins. Many instances were cited in which newspapers unselfishly covered news and pictures when not publishing, thereby giving their rivals in opposite cycles their own extensive and dramatic coverage.

The awards were given in three classifications: 1, combined news and newsphoto; 2, newsphotos; and 3, news.

The Providence (R.I.) Journal & Bulletin was cited for the fifth time in the eight years APME has been awarding these special citations. It was for that newspaper's outstanding news and photo staff job of the dramatic Pawtucket siege in which two policemen were killed and the collision of two tankers off Newport.

The citation winners:

Deaths Around the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
TAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Howard Logan Hildebrandt, 84, a nationally known portrait painter, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was well known for his portraits of college and business presidents and executives.

BRYN MAWR, Pa. (AP)—Benjamin E. Warren, 59, manager of the Sun Oil Company's Latin American production division, died Monday of a heart attack. He also was vice president and general manager of several subsidiary companies in Latin America. He was born in Kollar, Tex. PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Margaretta Brucker, about 70, of Shelby, Ohio, author of several books for juveniles, died Tuesday. She operated a restaurant at Harbor Springs, Mich., during the resort season for more than 30 years.

Blames Closing on School Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The closing of this city's four high schools was blamed yesterday for the Little Rock School Board's decision not to propose a tax rate reduction.

Wayne Upton, board president, said there had been a possibility that the board would propose a tax rate of 38 mills on city property but that it was now out of the question. The current rate is 40 mills.

Upton said about $500,000 was withheld from the school system because of the closed schools and that a 10-mill tax reduction would mean a total loss of almost $750,000. He said the school district could not stand such a loss.

CHAPTER XXI

They went on through the door and made their way up the pale hall, Katherine leaning helplessly against Amy's shoulder.

"Well, there must be at least something I can do," Aunt Millicent followed them, two steps behind, halting in a palmy of indecision and frustration. "I was just wiping off my face when you came in, of course. That is the way, Paul was actually doing the wiping right then. I hadn't really thought about what we ought to do next. I hadn't made any plans. I was just going to let her sleep if she wanted to..."

She was still standing uneasily in the hall, her hands clasped, moving her feet nervously on the light-colored carpet, when they went into the bedroom without looking back, and closed the door against her. Amy said, "Love, just look at you! I've never seen anything like it in my life. Why, you're scratched and bruised and cut up all over. What in the world could ever have happened to you?"

"I... well... I..."

It was all on the point of pouring out, the entire horrible story, it boiled up inside her, flaming over the edge of her reticence. She wanted desperately to tell it, to let someone else take over the responsibility. She wanted someone else to decide for her what she should do next. But something inexplicably stopped her lips and kept her silent.

She trusted Amy, of course, and loved her with all the devotion of her youthful heart. She suddenly saw in Amy's loyal, armpy, affectionate person all the safety and protection which, through the long afternoon and evening, she had so hopefully, and so vainly, piled upon Aunt Millicent. She urgently needed someone in whom she could believe — and she did believe in Amy! — she knew there could be no question about that — but something about Aunt Millicent's behavior, in the fact that she had allowed herself to be so completely taken in, even against her own best judgment, that a play had been carefully produced and acted out for her benefit in which, against the strongest pull of her instincts, she had let herself believe, and that she had, almost deliberately, as if testing how far the treachery would go, walked into every trap that was set for her, all made the whole world half-suspect now.

Amy was bustling about the room, straightening things, arranging the bed covers. Without looking up she said, "All those scratches and things. Terrible. Just terrible. That's what they are."

Katherine said nothing. "Where did you fall?"

"Out there..." Katherine gestured with intentional vagueness to some unspecified place beyond the windows. She was hoping the questions would end.

"Well, it couldn't have been here in the house."

Katherine became busier than ever, avoiding giving an answer. It was essential that she should tell nothing, hint at nothing.

Amy seemed at last to be giving up on this train of thought. She switched over to a new one. "But where have you been all this time?" And when that, too, got no answer, "I'll bet you haven't had a bite of dinner yet, have you now, honey?"

Amy went into the bathroom and came back after a moment with a dry towel on her arm. She said, "We're going to dry your hair, and then while I get your sandwich, you can put on your pajamas and get in bed. How's that?"

"All right."

She knew that she would not last out the night sleeping in her own bed. She had planned, when she had sufficient leisure to think and sufficient composure to be rational, to go to this Ransomes and ask if she could spend the night with them.

She saw no reason now to alter that plan.

Amy had finished drying her hair. She said, "Now you just get yourself into your pajamas, love, and I'll go and get your sandwich and your glass of milk for you, and be right back."

She wanted to beg Amy not to leave her, even for a second; she wanted to tell her everything. And then the paralysis set in once more.

Her pajamas were hanging on a hook on the inside of the bathroom door. It was after she was inside the bathroom that she remembered that on this door, at least, there was a lock. She closed the door and bolted it firmly. Now she really was safe until Amy came back.

It was only a second before she heard Amy's voice calling to her from the bedroom. "Are you in there? I've got your sandwich for you."

She unlocked the door and went out. Amy had set the sandwich and the glass of milk on the bedside table, turned down the bed, and drawn up a chair.

While she finished her sandwich, Amy said, "Now what would you like to have me read to you, love?"

"Anything I don't care."

Katherine glanced at herself in the mirror, and then folded her arms, looking down at her hands, and then at the door.

Wants a Big Missile Sent Up Soon

Associated Press Aviation Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has asked the missile industry to design a one-ton space capsule capable of orbiting the earth for as much as 28 hours.

NASA plans to launch the capsule, and left as quietly as she could.

sule from Cape Canaveral, Fla. in the hope of an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile.

It said in an announcement that the winning design may resemble capsule concepts proposed for manned flight into space, but will not be a true space craft.

The agency presented its preliminary specifications to 38 missile and aviation manufacturers at a meeting at the Langley Research Center near Norfolk, Va. last Friday.

NASA asked the companies to submit bids by Dec. 4, and said it would award a contract for the long-term development of the space capsule after Jan. 1.

NASA told the manufacturers it wanted two complete orbits from the first of the vehicles, and 18 of more from later models. The satellites must attain an almost circular orbit rigidly fixed between the altitudes of 125 and 140 miles.

Initially the capsule will contain only instruments for measuring acceleration and deceleration, velocity, temperatures and other data for relay back to earth by radio telemetry systems.

After several such launchings, capsules with monkeys or other animals will be sent aloft in a study of the problems of abrupt acceleration on takeoff, re-entry into the earth's atmosphere, and recovery once the vehicle has been returned to earth.

Eventually the capsules, if they

Colleges Ask Money Be Doubled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three state colleges presented budget requests to the Arkansas Legislature Council yesterday asking for about twice as much money as they now get.

The council took the requests under consideration.

Arkansas State Teachers College

asked for $1,086,425 a year, compared to its current appropriation of $550,000 a year; Arkansas Tech sought $905,580, compared to its current $550,000, and Henderson State Teachers College requested $1,026,510, compared to $580,000.

The institutions were allowed to submit the increased budgets because of a decision two years ago to have state colleges prepare budgets on a formula which took into account enrollment.

All state agencies were directed in August to prepare their 1959-61 budget requests no higher than this biennial's level of spending.

The council approved budgets yesterday for the School for the Deaf, School for the Blind and the Negro School for the Blind and Deaf. All were about the same level as current figures.

The Deaf School sought $336,000, the Blind School $201,000 and the Negro Blind and Deaf School $86,300.

VENERABLE MELONS

TABSCOTT, Va. — Nathan and Wallace Payne think they have about the sweetest watermelons grown. Variety, Guess you would, have to call them Paynes. The family has kept growing them for 84 years from seed obtained in 1874.
